Dear Representatives Bresnahan, Dingell, Mann, and Frankel,

We, the over 500 undersigned organizations, write today with sincere gratitude for your leadership in introducing H.R. 10770, the 340B Rebate Model Delay Act, and urge Congress to pass this legislation before the end of the 119th Congress. We strongly support this bipartisan legislation to provide a two-year delay in implementation of the 340B Rebate Model Pilot Program and preserve upfront 340B discounts, given the significant harm that a rebate model would impose on covered entities serving vulnerable populations.

Bipartisan lawmakers in both the House and the Senate have introduced comprehensive 340B reform bills to stabilize and strengthen the program; these bills take differing approaches to the Rebate Model, and HRSA's implementation of a rebate model jumps ahead of Congress's consideration and processes.

Because of this, the safety net providers we represent urgently need lawmakers to step in before the 340B Rebate Model Pilot Program is implemented on January 1, 2027. Your legislation is a critical measure that will help health care providers continue to serve the rural and underserved communities that need them, and we urge Congressional leaders to include this legislation in any must pass vehicle before the end of the 119th Congress.

Our organizations strongly oppose replacing upfront 340B discounts with manufacturer rebates. For affected drugs, shifting from upfront discounts to rebates would place additional strain on covered entities already operating with limited resources. These financial and administrative burdens would divert resources from patient care and in some cases, could affect clinicians' ability to provide certain medications and generate savings that support other essential services.

Further, a rebate pilot is not balanced reform; it shifts all financial and operational risk onto safety-net providers, the very same groups the program was created to benefit. Manufacturers are seeking to overturn more than three decades of precedent while citing hurdles they have actively cleared—the Medicare Drug Price Negotiation Program took effect on January 1, 2026, and manufacturers have successfully identified which units are exempt from inflationary rebates without a rebate model. At a time when rural communities are already grappling with a well-documented lack of health care access, this pilot could mean the difference between communities having access to the care they need, and not.

We greatly appreciate your bipartisan leadership in introducing the 340B Rebate Model Delay Act and your commitment to protecting covered entities in the 340B program and the patients we serve. Congress does not need to resolve every outstanding 340B issue before acting to preserve upfront discounts. We urge Congress to advance this important legislation and look forward to continuing to work with you to protect and strengthen the 340B program.

Sincerely,

Advocates for Community Health
